Record gross absorption of 495 thousand sqm: profitable growth with the highest Yield on Cost in LOG's history

The company recorded 495 thousand sqm of gross absorption, the highest quarterly volume in its history, equivalent to approximately 30% of national absorption. In the first nine months of 2026, cumulative absorption reached 789 thousand sqm, surpassing the company's annual record ahead of schedule.

The main highlight was the pre-leasing of 488 thousand sqm of GLA, distributed across 14 projects and 11 cities, with an average rent of R$ 28.63/sqm and an average Yield on Cost of 13.8%, the highest in Log's history.

The quality of these contracts is reflected in their solid economic structure. 100% of pre-leasing contracts include rent correction by inflation during the construction phase (90% by INCC and 10% by IPCA), preserving the profitability of the projects during development.

The excellent commercial performance extends to the projects completed in the quarter, delivered with 100% occupancy and an average rent of R$ 28.00/sqm. Furthermore, approximately 77% of the GLA expected for delivery by the end of 2027 is already pre-leased, providing high visibility of future revenues and reducing commercial risks in the pipeline.

The strong operational performance of the quarter demonstrates the strength of Log's integrated business model. The company continues to generate value through its strong relationships with its client base and its capacity to provide services on a national scale through LOG 360.

Average rent exceeds R$ 26/sqm, combining real rental growth and high occupancy

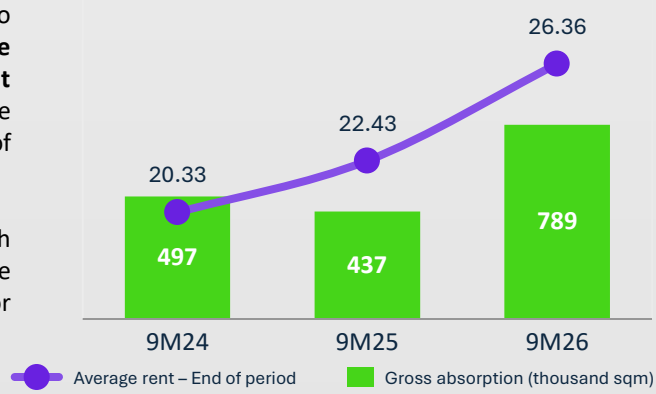

In 3Q26, the portfolio's average rent reached R$ 26.36/sqm, a growth of 17.5% compared to the same period of 2025, accompanied by a vacancy rate of only 1.14%, significantly below the market average of approximately 5%. The Leasing EBITDA margin was 84% in the quarter, demonstrating the company's high operational efficiency.

Geographic diversification also contributes to this performance. The presence in different regions allows the company to meet the demand of clients with national operations and to capture opportunities in markets with limited supply. In the quarter, 89% of the volume of new leases occurred outside the Southeast region.

The appreciation of existing contracts also remains consistent. For the 17th consecutive quarter, the company recorded Same Client Rent growth above inflation, with a positive spread of 2.49%, preserving the real value of recurring revenues.

The combination of pricing power, high occupancy and cost discipline sustains the portfolio's profitability and its capacity for recurring earnings generation.

LOG 360 drives Asset-Light growth strategy

Log advances in the diversification of its business model through LOG 360, a service platform offering solutions such as condominium administration, construction management and third-party asset management. An ecosystem that expands its role beyond the development and leasing of logistics warehouses, transforming scale, operational expertise and client relationships into new sources of recurring asset-light revenue.

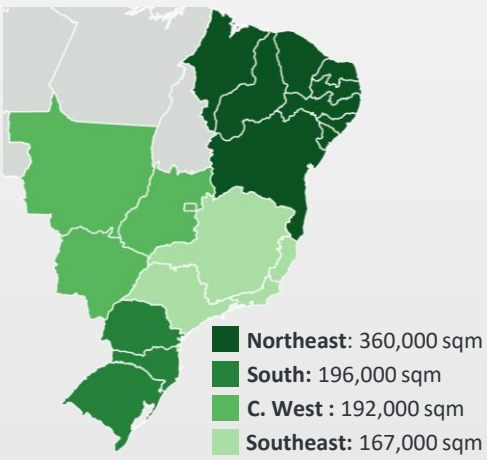

Over the last 12 months, service revenues grew 49%, reaching R$ 9.1 million in the quarter. Gross profit also grew by 36%, resulting in a service gross margin of 65%. This performance demonstrates Log's capacity to monetize its operational structure, expand its role over its own and third-party assets and increase the relevance of service revenues in its results.

LOG 360 represents a new avenue of value creation for shareholders, combining service revenue growth, operational scalability and new business opportunities, with greater capital efficiency.

Advancing the Log 2 Million program with capital discipline and shareholder returns

In 3Q26, the company invested R$ 318.5 million in development, the highest quarterly volume in its history, closing the period with 914,900 sqm of GLA under construction, spread across 17 construction sites in 10 states. The national presence allows the company to direct investments toward markets with consistent demand, capturing growth opportunities with risk diversification.

The Log 2 Million program advances within this strategy. By September, the company had delivered 499,000 sqm of GLA, while another 914,900 sqm remained under construction. Log also advanced in land acquisition, having already secured the entirety of the program's remaining pipeline.

We also highlight the economic attractiveness of the program, with the highest average Yield on Cost in the Company's history, demonstrating the return generation potential on invested capital. Discipline in project selection seeks to ensure that portfolio growth is accompanied by returns adequate to risk and to the cost of capital.

To finance its growth, the company has been actively pursuing capital mobilization through the recycling of stabilized assets.

Asset recycling proceeds have been allowing Log to finance the CAPEX of its project portfolio while delivering high shareholder remuneration. Over the last 12 months, the company recorded a Dividend Yield of approximately 37%, based on the closing share price of October 2026, reflecting the distributions made during the period.

In this way, the company has been executing its capital allocation strategy with discipline, focused on total shareholder returns. The reduction of the existing portfolio and the accelerated sale of recently delivered assets continue to finance the new project development cycle and sustain distributions to shareholders.

The company has demonstrated the flexibility of its business model and its ability to consistently generate value for shareholders across different macroeconomic scenarios.

The quarter's net revenue totaled R$ 57.7 million. The increase in average rent and the expansion of the services business partially offset the effects of significant asset recycling. As a result, despite average GLA being 28.5% lower than in the same period of the previous year, net revenue decreased by only 13.5%.

In the year-to-date, net revenue increased by 3.4% compared to 9M25, totaling R$ 189.8 million, even with an average GLA 16% lower.
